

Top 10 Things

To Remember
During Your College
Application and Decision-Making Process

The Road Runner runs fast...he'll sneak up on you quickly.

Don't wait too long to look into schools, visit campuses, and apply.

Watch out for flying monkeys...especially if you're in Kansas.

Do you feel safe and comfortable on campus? Are their resources available to contact when you don't feel safe?

Only the Pope has a Popemobile.

How far away is the school from your home? How far or close do you want to be from home? Do you have a way to commute back and forth?

Even Cookie Monster gets stomach aches.

It's great to have a variety of schools to choose from, but don't stress yourself out. You don't need to apply to 20 schools. Apply to the ones that interest you and are the best fit for you.

Look for Swiss Guards.

Is the community supportive and friendly? Will they have your back?

Cyclopsis aren't ideal essay editors.

The more eyes that look over your admission essay, the better. Ask Mrs. Nixon, your English teacher, your friends, etc. to read over your admission essay.

Find an American Ninja Warrior compatible school.

Is there a good program for your major? Will the school push you to learn and grow as a student?

Find Your Purple Crayon?

Will the school help you achieve your goals, your dreams, you calling? Will it give you the individual experience that will benefit you the most?

The Man with the Yellow Hat is your friend.

Will the school support your curiosity? Are there opportunities to explore your interests both inside and outside the classroom.

Find a magical wardrobe if you're looking for Narnia.

Is it important to you to have access to faith building opportunities and organizations? Are these available on campus and/or nearby?
